

The Final Seven Years and Beyond Timeline

Understandings on which this timeline is based:

- Nowhere does Scripture refer to the entire, 7-year 70th week of Daniel as "the tribulation" or "the great tribulation."
- There is a clear distinction between the "great tribulation," which is the wrath of Satan being poured out on the Saints, and the "wrath of God," which is the wrath of the Lord being poured out on unsaved and unprotected earth dwellers.
- There is a clear distinction between the trumpet judgments, which are nowhere referred to as the "wrath of God," affect only 1/3 of the earth and its inhabitants, and occur during the time of the Great Tribulation, and the "last plagues of the wrath of God" – the vials or bowls of wrath – which affect the whole earth and are poured out immediately following the blowing of the seventh trump and the Rapture.
